To whom it may concern,

I am writing this on behalf of my friend and colleague Trevor Dick.

I have known Trevor and his family now for over a decade and have been truly blessed by his friendship.

Trevor is a gifted musician who has served as part of the Lakeside Worship team while I've been leading it (almost two years) as well as many years before I even arrived here at Lakeside. His musical skills are matched only by his humility and his utter and total devotion to God, and helping people know Him more.

Trevor not only plays violin here on our team as part of Sunday mornings, but also serves as a musical arranger many weeks acting as a mentor to many younger (and not so young) musicians on our team. I have loved, as all Worship Team members would agree, any opportunity to be able to serve along side him over the time we have both served at Lakeside.

Trevor serves here at Lakeside regularly but also has a great ministry through his CD projects. His CD's are a testament to his work ethic; a striving for the best musical quality, with a centre firmly grounded in Christ. All his albums showcase what a great gift he has.

About the only thing better than listening to the albums is seeing Trevor play live, either at Lakeside on Sunday mornings, or when he is touring in support of his albums. His passion is igniting! He has the rare gift of being able to set the mood in a room with only a few notes, and he has the dynamic ability to take the people in the room with him along for the ride.

Space limits what I can say about Trevor, so I will conclude by saying that Trevor really embodies the idea of a strong Christian to me, and his gift as a violinist is second to none.

If you are looking for any further information on Trevor, please don't hesitate to contact me here at Lakeside .

Blessings,
